Bio – Short Version:

Karuana Gatimu is a technology professional with 18 years experience in content management, custom application development and corporate training. She is currently the Director of Marketing Operations & SharePoint Architect for Skechers USA and the Principal Enthusiast at SharePointStrategist.com. A contributing author at SharePointGovernance.org she teaches frequently about ECM strategy and best practices for SharePoint implementations.

Ms. Gatimu has implemented technology projects in government, legal, non-profit and entertainment industries. Her focus on technology as a service to business has allowed her to design and deliver cost effective solutions which serve the needs of the end user. She is also the Vice Chair of SPUGs.org, a non-profit organization which promotes SharePoint User Groups across the country and a founding member of the Los Angeles SharePoint User Group.
